

QUALITY, ENVIRONMENTAL AND HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICIES

Since our beginnings we have performed all kind of underwater Jobs, in vessels, civil engineering, cable and pipe laying, soundings, etc.

What makes us be strong and reliable in our market after more than 30 years uninterruptedly as a first line company.

The fact that we keep constantly investing in more and newer equipment and tools as well as an excellent service, permits us to offer an excellent, qualified, fast and efficient service, being compliant to all safety regulations and recommendations whatever depth or sea condition.

We are conscious that it is important to check and establish goals in order to improve constantly, therefore we have established a quality, environment and health and safety management system according to ISO 9001:2008, ISO 14001:2004 and OHSAS 18001:2007 respectively, being confident that with everyone's help we can achieve the following good:

Satisfy the continuous improvement in every process, towards the client and toward our own workforce.

Use of principles not only for us, but towards our suppliers and subcontractors.

Base the system in complying to all laws and regulations regarding environment and health and safety and all affecting our services as well as respecting all the established towards our clients.

Stay as leaders providing underwater services.

Establish continuous improvements in our daily Jobs as to create as less rubbish as possible disposing all the available financial resources.

Reassure the need to motivate all personnel about how important it is to protect the environment at all levels as well as granting their proper performance on their Jobs in the company.

Valve and evaluate all the risks in our job with proper analysis of all positions, introducing all workforce as consultants preventing any accident or incident or any aspect that could affect negatively health and safety in the company.

Integrate the quality, environment and health and safety management system in all our operations.

Create an environment where our workforce is a main part of this policy.

Establish our job as a process trying to achieve goals and productively efficient.

Supervise these policies are maintained and kept up to date and communicated to all personnel.
